

from Romanus Fedotovs, the assists going to Ben Williams and Andy Watt.

The first period, with the scores level, had been very satisfactory for the Lions, considering their opponents were riding high in the league.

But the second period proved fundamental to n't until 50:22 that the Greyhounds scored their final goal, Andy Johnstone combining with his brother Rob to complete the scoring.

There was still time for Haringey's Lee Mercer to board Scott-Joseph at 53:42 and following the ensuing punch-up, both Lions are next at home this Saturday week (Dec 9) against last season's league winners Invicta Dynamos.

■That evening there will also be a charity Teddy Bear throwing competition to raise money for the Samaritan's Purse charity.

Those not bringing a soft toy will be able to buy one for 50p.

Good Fridays deal is a big boost to club

NOT only are things looking up for Lee Valley Lions on the ice with a couple of wins and a draw recently, after a long fallow period of no points in the English Ice Hockey League, but matters off-ice have also taken a turn for the better.

The Lee Valley Ice Centre based team have found a new sponsor in forward-looking property lawyers Fridays, a residential property conveyancing company.

Founded in 2004 by Simon Seaton, Fridays

LIONS CLUB NEWS

have a loyal following among estate agents and that link lead them to the Lions' through assistant captain Paul O'Neill, who is an estate agent.

Fridays say that they see the Lions as pro-active and driven as their own company is and with talented players, a committed coach and a spate of positive results, the club are the perfect sponsorship opportunity.

Lions' manager Deryck

Beeson said: "It's fantastic for us to have Fridays on board. Their sponsorship and interest in the team will be greatly appreciated and we will be hoping to build on the relationship over the course of the season."

Last week Friday's principal Simon Seaton was at the Ice Centre to present Lions with £500 as the first stage of the sponsorship. He received a Lions replica shirt of his own

YOU CAN PUT YOUR SHIRT ON THE LIONS: From the left: Club captain James Hatfull, assistant captain Paul O'Neill and manager Deryck Beeson, celebrate the club's new sponsorship with Simon Seaton of Fridays Property Lawyers.

Picture: Karyn Haddon.